

At this distance it looks very much as though Carl Schurz was running for United States Senator on Henry Villard's railroad.

The anti-snapping Democrats have been asking ever since the election what they are to receive when the spoils are divided. Perhaps Mr. Croker can tell them.

One of the grifts of the smash-up is that Uncle Jerry Rusk must retire from the Department of Agriculture before completing his great projects for the welfare of the American farmer.

The wonder is the Republican strength in Pennsylvania, which struggled against the tidal wave in grand style, notwithstanding the fact that the party in that state is divided against itself.

Young Mr. Quincy of Massachusetts frankly owns that it was himself that elected Mr. Cleveland. But for this confession he might have escaped detection. Nobody had ever suspected him.

As we understand the situation, Chairman Harrity will neither run after a Cabinet position nor away from it. If the office seeks the man, Mr. Harrity will doubtless be found at home when it calls.

Already the cry comes up from the South for the immediate revival of the old system of state banks. The Democracy declared in its platform this year that the National banks must go and the Southern agitators are determined that it shall keep its word.

"Distinction. If not glory, awaits the Democratic statesman who rises in Congress at the forthcoming session and offers a resolution affirming his party's doctrine that Protection is unconstitutional. Where and who is the man that dares first to attempt it?"

The high-water mark of American wages has been passed since the election of another Republican President. The Ledger deprecates this fact, but it is useless to deny it. The victory at the polls of the advocates of "cheap labor" means a stoppage in the gradual rise of American wages.

If the Democratic party carries out the principles of its platform the results will be so disastrous to American industry that Free-trade will be swept off the face of the American continent four years hence. If it ignores its platform and fails to keep its promises to the people they will know that they were humbugged in 1892 and will sweep the humbugs from power none the less. Either way the Democrats lose.

Murst Halstead truly says that the American capital invested in manufactures was not cared for Protection so far as it covers the margin of difference between the wages of labor in Europe and the wages in America. If the laboring man—the workman—wants to try Free-trade, they will have to do it at their own expense. The capitalist can take care of himself. The Democratic party has won the Presidential election on the rankless Free-trade platform that ever was before the American people. The workmen have largely voted for it, and they will have to enjoy the consequences. As there is a lowering of the Protection on the industries that have been denounced by demagogues until they have become obnoxious, down will go with it the trades, and all the strikes that can be organized will be in vain. The mills can be closed. The capital may go West or to Europe or vanish. The skilled laborer can take European wages or leave the shops and go to tilling the soil. The farmers of Kansas and Alabama can tell of the brilliancy of the prospect. High wages have caused strikes. We shall see whether the European scale in America will make peace.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Bills of News That Will Interest "Ledger" Readers.

Frankfort Capital.—The newspapers of Louisville are unfortunate in that, because of local considerations, they are forced to publish much matter which causes weariness of spirit among out-of-town readers. For instance, the slush about the Stateliter ball, and the King and Queen, and the Dukes. All these things combined make plain, honest, every day people tired.

Georgetown, (O.) News.—Allen O. Myers has been jollifying in West Virginia the past ten days. He was a wheel of money on the election, offering and taking many any kind of a bet. He went around gathering up his winnings with a valise in his hand, into which he thrust the bills. A gentleman who saw it says the valise looked to him as if it was nearly full. The last heard of him he was negotiating for one of John Robinson's elephants upon which he intended to "plump" "G. O. P." and ride it to Brown county.

Louisville Times.—Publishers of the big newspapers in Chicago have been discussing for some time plans of an exhibit they will make at the Fair. It is as good as settled now that both a morning and evening paper will be issued in Machinery Hall every day. The paper will be printed on presses sent to the fair as exhibits, and it is possible that they will be printed on paper made on the exhibition grounds. This exhibit would enable persons who have not witnessed the interesting process of producing a great daily newspaper to see every feature of the work from the manufacture of paper to the delivery of the story of the events of a day to subscribers.

Flemingsburg Democrat.—The success of every legitimate enterprise in a town adds just so much to the general fund of prosperity, hence it is to the interest of every citizen of this place and especially of every merchant, to use every effort to make a success of the Million-Kendall to be made. It is a home enterprise, established by home people with home capital. The money paid out for wages is spent here among our people for groceries, dry goods, rents, taxes, newspaper subscriptions and all the other trades and occupations that share of it as it goes. Such being the case, every merchant should make $4 a point to handle their goods as far as possible, and at no time buy from an outside factory a grade of goods which the home factory can supply. This is business, and this is what makes a prosperous town.

Ashland Signal.—There came to this city last Monday a good looking young lady of the blonde type. She wore glasses and seemed to wear around her the air of a Boston brood girl. Going to one of the principal hotels in the city she registered as Marion Greedy, representing a Chicago bookhouse and stated to the clerk that she expected to meet a young man from the South in this city. His name she refused to give, but took particular notice of all the arrivals of all Northbound trains, and for three days never allowed one to enter the city without being on hand to meet the unknown, who, alas, never came.

Wednesday she gave up the watch and stated that she would return home. And what might have blossomed into a full-blown romance, "died a born." Miss Greedy made few acquaintances while in the city, and to no one gave any information regarding the Southern gentleman.

It is supposed a meeting had been arranged for here, and her friends thinking better of the matter had concluded to break the engagement.

HARSH CIRCUIT COURT.

Business Transacted by the Honorable Circuit Court—Report of the Grand Jury.

R. F. Gault was appointed committee of the son, Henry P. Gault.

The trial of Charles Skinner under indictment for feloniously entering the house of R. R. Frost, resulted in his acquittal.

The indictments against Jeff Clayton and William Sons for the same offense were fled away.

The arraignment and sale bill of the estate of J. Blakeborough was produced by W. J. Alexander, committee.

Sheriff John W. Alexander handed in an account of $98.90 which was sworn to and certified.

The Grand Jury reported forty-one indictments in all.

The following is the final report of that body:

"We have diligently inquired into all the violations of law that have come to our knowledge, and in no instance have we failed to indict where the evidence in the case was sufficient to convince us of the guilt of the accused; believing as we do that the peace, dignity and welfare of the community can only be maintained by strict and swift execution of the law. Sorry we have been compelled in two instances to find indictments for murder, the highest crime known to law. "Our greatest trouble has been in finding witnesses who are willing to testify against parties carrying concealed deadly weapons, gambling or unlawfully selling liquor to minors. From the number of how-things we find in such cases one might be induced to believe the old order of know-nothings has been revived.

"We have disposed of all the cases that were brought before us, except one, that of John Carr, colored, held over under bond for petit larceny. Not being able to get the witnesses in that case we referred it to the next Grand Jury.

"We have examined the jail and other public buildings and find them all to be in good sanitary condition.

"We tender our thanks to the officials of the court for courtesies shown us, and especially so to the Sheriff, Jailer and Clerk, who have been prompt and efficient in all their duties.

"A. M. WORTHINGTON, FOREMAN."

Slippery Mince.

One of our exchanges is responsible for the mixing up of an article about a wedding with a grocery advertisement. According to the mislaid report Mr. James Redwood was united in the holy bonds of Dutch cheese at a lower rate than any other clergyman officiating. The presents were many, and included imported Norway herring, salmon and pelican soap. Prunes down below cost and dried apples trimmed with costly lace, which the bride's mother wore when she was married in the only shop where oysters can be bought at ten pence a tin.

The newly married couple sat at a wedding breakfast in the midst of a small number of relatives, green gages, preserved tomatoes, sheep's tongue and the best brands of whistens flour. The newly married couple left for an extended tour in soft cap and bath brick at the lowest rates.

Some New Applicants.

Augusta Chronicle.—The editor of The Augusta Chronicle is an applicant for the Postoffice at Mayville. So far Mayor Chennoweth and R. B. Lord are his only opponents. Personally all the gentlemen are strangers to us. Our sympathies are naturally with the editor, for he is expected to do more work for the party with less thanks and poorer pay than any man in it.

A Reliable Man.

M. J. Griner, a Justice of the Peace at Print, Mich., says one bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life. He had been down with bloody flux for three weeks when he commenced using this medicine. It soon cured him, and he believes saved the lives of three railroad men in that vicinity. "Squire Griner is a reliable and conscientious man, and whatever he says can be depended upon. For sale by Power & Reynolds, Drugists.

Gorton's Minstrel.

Gorton's Minstrel Company does not claim to be the greatest show on earth, and that is probably why it gives better satisfaction than some minstrels with more claim and promise than performance.

A Rag Man's Harp.

A special from Circleville, O., to The Commercial Gazette says that Officer Will Palm was detailed upon a peculiar case of larceny. Mrs. Eugene R. Mann, the wife of a Frenchman, sold a sack of rags which contained a gold watch and chain and $500 in money, and notes amounting to an equal sum, for 5 cents. Levi, who she sold the rags, when arrested, denied all knowledge of the contents of the sack, but Mrs. Mann identified a hat and shirt he was wearing when brought into the Station-house. Levi was sentenced to jail for 60 days in money and a check for $20, besides the watch and chain.

The Quickest Way to Cure a Cold.

Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. The first symptoms of a cold is a dry, loud coughing and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double dose every hour. This will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in many cases will effectually counteract it and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced. Fifty cent bottle for sale by Power & Reynolds.

A Traffic Pool.

The railroads of the Western states will probably form a traffic pool. At least the Interstate Commerce Commission is said to be endeavoring to obtain the opinions of prominent railroad officials, traffic men and association chairmen, with a view to presenting a bill to Congress amending the Interstate Commerce law, if the said opinions are favorable.

The railroad men above mentioned have received letters from the Interstate Commerce Commission with a request to avoid all publicity. The letter reads to the effect that the commission is seriously considering the advisability of recommending to Congress the adoption of an amendment to the Interstate Commerce law, providing for the legalizing of pooling traffic among railroads, on condition that proper report of the same be submitted to the commission.

The letter also says the opinion of traffic managers, railway managers and Presidents, together with Commissioners and Managers of Transportation Bureau and Boards of trade, is to be heard, and that the majority of answers are favorable, an amendment to the law will be the next session of the United States Congress.

BAD WEATHER.

Rain, Snow and Wind in the Northwest.

Telegraph Wires Prostrated by the Rain Freezing on Them.

A Foot of Snow in Western Wisconsin and Southern Minnesota.—A Large Section Isolated.—Messages to St. Paul Go by the Way of San Francisco.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—For the past thirty hours not a clock has been heard from the telegraph instruments connecting Chicago with the great northwest. All that section having St. Paul as headquarters as a center has been practically isolated. Up to midnight Friday night the situation was unchanged. The only way the twigs cities could be reached from Chicago is via Omaha, Ogden, Utah; San Francisco and Helena, Mont., and back via the northwestern route. With a view of obtaining some news from the section, the Press has had reporters watching incoming trains from the northwest, to intercept any news from the section which might have the necessary information.

On the arrival of the passenger train on the Chicago and Northwestern and St. Paul railroad Friday night, two officials of that road—Messrs. A. J. Earling, assistant general manager, and E. F. Ely, chief clerk, arrived, stopped off, after a trip through Wisconsin.

In speaking of the storm of Thursday night and Friday morning, Mr. Earling said:

"It has been a very severe storm through western Wisconsin, northern Minnesota, and Iowa, and it started in with a heavy wind and rain, and the rain suddenly turned to snow. I guess there must be about a foot of it now, and the snow is falling in western Wisconsin and southern Minnesota.

The rain froze on the telegraph wires, making them useless, then the wires were blown down, and a number of telegraph poles are down in every direction. We have experienced the greatest difficulty in getting trains through, as the telegraph dispatches have not been able to send a single message for over twenty-four hours. Large gangs of men have been sent out, and the damage is being repaired as rapidly as possible, but it will be some time, I think, before telegraphic communication will be opened up. I have heard no reports of any loss of life, but it is possible there may have been something of the kind. The fall in temperature, while not so rapid as that of winter, was very sharp for this time of year, and it came so suddenly that I do not think many were prepared for it."

The storm seemed to have done its work very thoroughly through Wisconsin. Early Friday morning a smash-up occurred on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road between Fairview and Mineral Point, but the railroad officials have been unable to obtain the slightest particulars regarding its cause or severity. They have the information, in a vague sort of way, that no lives were lost, but they know nothing for sure. The officers of the road, however, are not disposed to be too ready to give any intelligence by wire.

The extreme north of Minnesota and North Dakota are reported to have escaped the storm, but they have the information that it seems to have raged with great violence through north and central Iowa, as railways report; they have been unable to get the dispatches to or from any town on their lines between here and Council Bluffs.

The Cotton Crop.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 18.—The New York Courier has had an exhaustive examination made as to the condition of the cotton crop of the south. It shows that the crop is short far beyond what was expected. They have the information, in a vague sort of way, that no lives were lost, but they know nothing for sure. The officers of the road, however, are not disposed to be too ready to give any intelligence by wire.

The extreme north of Minnesota and North Dakota are reported to have escaped the storm, but they have the information that it seems to have raged with great violence through north and central Iowa, as railways report; they have been unable to get the dispatches to or from any town on their lines between here and Council Bluffs.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 18.—There is a quiet rumor to the effect that an eastern syndicate has purchased the Indianapolis street railway system. There are various figures named as the price paid for the road, the consideration, however, being generally placed at $3,250,000. Parties here in position to know will neither affirm nor deny the report.

Women's Advancement Officers.

NEWBURGH, Tenn., Nov. 18.—The officers elected by the Association for Women's Advancement were: President, Julia W. Howard; Executive Secretary, Elizabeth Lord Tift; New York; treasurer, Henrietta L. T. Wolcott, Massachusetts; auditors, Carolina Smith, New York; Louise M. Stearns, New York.

Five Centists Still Out.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 18.—There was no further progress Friday in the official vote of the election, as no more counties have filed their abstracts. The counties still out are: Lawrence, Stark, Lucas, Fayette and Franklin. It is expected that all of these will be in by next Tuesday.

Bad For Some Bids.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The financial effect of Gladstone's home rule for Ireland and home rule for Wales has been known to the cabinet, and the drain on imperial finances will be so great thereby, that the chances of a liberal party's acceptance of the bill are small.

Female Policees Released.

FOR DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 18.—Mrs. Chorney, of Keweenaw, who confessed to poisoning her husband, was being taken to the county jail, when she was released by Judge Olson.
